Behavior Expectations and Consequences:

1. Be prompt. Be at your desk and ready to begin class when the bell rings. The bell does not dismiss this class; the teacher does. I will dismiss you after the final bell sounds if everyone is seated and quiet and all materials have been put away.
2. Be respectful. Treat everyone in the classroom with the courtesy and respect you wish to receive yourself. Pay attention and do not distract others. Also, respect the property, personal space, and opinions of others.
3. Be considerate. Think about the feelings of others before you say anything. Also, raise your hand so that each person may have a turn to speak; and don't conduct personal business (doing your hair, gossiping, passing notes, eating/drinking, etc.) during class time.
4. Be prepared. Bring your laptop, binder, and a writing utensil to class every day. Come to school fully rested.

Consequences: First offense, documented warning—second, documented parent contact—third, detention—thereafter, office referral

Attendance:

Regular attendance is critical to academic success. Students must be present at least half of the class period to be counted present. Refrain from unexcused absences as they could potentially affect credit, and students will NOT be allowed to make up work for unexcused absences.

Grading Policy:

Grading is determined by the English department and cannot be changed. Daily grades (participation, quizzes, homework) are worth 40% and major grades (tests, essays, projects) are worth 60% of the total grade.

Some good news: grading is an individualized process. Each student is in competition with him- or herself only. The grade in the class is entirely predicated on the choices a student makes to do the best he or she can.
